

A Tapestry Retreat

Plein Air Style

Doris Florig, tapestry artist

Learn or improve your tapestry skills while surrounded by the natural beauty of Sonora, California. While weaving on a Navajo style loom you will have the opportunity to select fibers, hand-dyed, by Doris, from the plants and minerals that will play an important part of your tapestry design. When weaving en plein air you will capture the effects of weather and light that would otherwise be difficult to produce in a studio environment.

Class fee $235
includes materials

Harvest 36" x 30"

Shh.....They Hear You!
44 x 32

I spent the last 50 years looking over shoulders, asking questions, reading and experimenting with weaving techniques. I'm committed to a lifetime quest of learning weaving technical skills by connecting with people who have a cultural history in textile arts. I have absorbed the skills of netting and braiding from the Cree Indians, Flechee finger weaving from the French Canadians, spinning from Ontario sheep farmers, natural dyes from the Navajo, plaiting from the Bahamians and seat weaving from the blind. I learned their techniques, then experimented until I became comfortable adapting the skills to suit my own creative style.

May 5th 12:00 - 3:00
May 6th 9:00 - 2:00
May 7th 10:00 - 1:00

South Pass 40" x 32"

Instructor Doris Florig

Contact Doris Florig, dorisflorig@gmail.com in advance to learn how this class workshop help you develop your skills as a tapestry weaver and suit your personal artistic interest.